

Merchants' OPA Plan to Put Stores on War Basis

Head of Business Council Says Voluntary Help Now Will Avoid Mandatory Regulations; Vice-President Resigns

Narberth merchants through their business council are submitting to the OPA office in Philadelphia a comprehensive program for their cooperation in the war effort, it was announced Tuesday night.

The announcement was made by Walter G. Case, president of the council, at a meeting in the Ardmore Restaurant, Narberth.

Each merchant is now filling in a "War Effort Cooperation Form" showing his business adjustments to war-time needs. When these questionnaires are completed they will become the basis of a statistical report to be made to the Philadelphia OPA office. Answers to the questions will show the status of the business before Pearl Harbor the store today. The questionnaires cover such merchandising topics as store hours, amount of fuel oil consumed, mileage covered by business vehicles, customer service, display and promotion, and store salvage.

Case urged each merchant to promptly execute his questionnaire so that the needs of all merchants could be given proper consideration. He emphasized that filling in the questionnaire was not mandatory but stressed that voluntary action now would give merchants a voice in any regulations that might be introduced in the future.

More than 100 war effort questionnaires have been distributed.

Resignation of Frederick A. Egmore as vice-president of the council was read at the meeting and accepted with a vote of commendation for his services.

In resigning Egmore said that it was "entirely due to business conditions."

Opticians Tie-in With War Loan

Backed by the full approval of the OPA, Winfield Donat Co., Guild Opticians, with five stores in Philadelphia and vicinity, announce a 10 per cent discount on all cash sales of $1.00 or more, payable to the purchaser in War Stamps, during April.

There is no change in their low 1933 prices. This offer, which became effective April 1st, has aroused great public interest and a considerable response has been noted at all the five Donat stores.

Quoting from the public announcement made in this newspaper recently, Mr. Donat said: "This is really an opportunity for practical patriotism. It enables the individual to procure the first quality glasses his eyes need for war-time duties, and at the same time enjoy a worthwhile saving which he lends to Uncle Sam to speed the day of victory."

The public is invited to visit the most convenient of the Winfield Donat Company's five stores, as the offer is effective at them all.

Mrs. Melcher Heads Narberth Cooperative

Mrs. Leon Webster Melcher was elected president of the Narberth Cooperative Association at a meeting held April 14 at the Community Building. She will serve a two-year term and succeeds Miss Carol Justice.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Forrest Comfort, vice president; Mrs. John Snyder, treasurer; and Mrs. Paul Stewart, secretary. Mrs. William Sargent was named program chairman.

The Association's April meeting was open to the public and featured a talk by John U. Kenosky, Shade Tree Warden of Lower Merion Township, who spoke on Victory Gardening and illustrated his hints on how, when and what to plant with colored lantern slides.

Miss Evelyn Fleck, Narberth, sang "I Heard a Forest Praying" and "In My Garden," and Sarle Brown, Sarberth, who led the audience in singing "America" and the "Star Spangled Banner" sang two solos, "A Poor Man's Garden" and "Take Joy Home." Both singers were accompanied by Miss Ammerly of the Baptist Theological Seminary.

Borough Had No Accidents in March

For the first time in years, the March report of the public safety committee of the Narberth Borough Council showed no accidents of any kind in the Borough.

Beginning on April 19, ashes and trash will be collected in Narberth Borough only every other week, and this schedule will continue until further notice.

The every other week schedule is customary during the summer months, but ordinarily an every-week schedule is resumed in the Fall. This year, due to the shortage of labor, the more frequent collection schedule will not be resumed.

COMMUNITY PLANS FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Brief Parade and Quiet Service Listed By the Legion

A Memorial Day program keyed to the solemnity of a war-time observance is being worked out by the Harold D. Speakman Post of the American Legion, Narberth.

The program, which is scheduled for Sunday afternoon, May 30, is under the direction of a committee headed by Douglas Miner, commander of the Post, and including M. A. Mattoon, Henry A. Faye, Frank Challenger, Ralph Hoyle, Allen Kirk and H. F. Kallert, Jr.

Plans include a brief parade of people and organizations directly connected with the war effort: the Post, the Legion Auxiliary, Spanish American War Veterans, Red Cross, Volunteer Medical Service Corps, D. A. R., Gold Star Mothers, Civilian Defense units and any servicemen who are home. To save gas and tires, the fire trucks will not be in the parade, but members of the Fire Company have been asked to march in uniform.

Two colorful features of the parade of previous years will be missing due to the war. The fire trucks, covered with children, will there, nor will there be any decorated bicycles. A band will be obtained to march with the parade, however, as usual.

The committee asks that service men who are home come out and make part in the parade which will form in front of the Fire House on Forrest Ave. at 2:30 P. M. and start at 3 P. M.

The service, which will be conducted by the Rev. Robert E. Keighton, pastor of the Baptist Church of the Evangelist, assisted by other Narberth clergymen, will include the placing of a wreath on the Borough monument, a firing squad salute to the honored dead, an address by an appropriate speaker and community singing of patriotic selections.

Mrs. Hayward to Wed Phyllis Lee May 23

The marriage of Mrs. Frances Bent Hayward, 5 Woodside Ave., Narberth, and Mr. Phyllis Lee, Haverford, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clinton Lee, will take place quietly on May 23 at 4 P. M. at the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Rex Stowers Clements, pastor of the church, will perform the ceremony.

Mrs. Hayward will have no attendants, and Mr. Alden Lee, brother of the bridegroom, will serve as best man. A small reception for the immediate families will serve as best man.

Mrs. Hayward, who is a graduate of Wilson College, is the daughter of the late Rev. and Mrs. Rufus Howard Bent. Mr. Lee is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania.

Ask Cooperation of Residents to Protect Victory Gardens

Dogs and Victory Gardens just don't mix, the police of Narberth are pointing out to residents in a notice being sent to every home in the Borough this week.

Following the receipt of numerous complaints that dogs were damaging gardens, the police had the notices printed in an attempt to obtain the cooperation of all residents.

"Keeping your dog on your own property or on a leash is not only mandatory under the law," the police point out, "but it is an evidence of neighborliness and consideration for others."

FOOD FOR DEMONSTRATION
Schools using foods for educational purposes, and other food demonstration groups may get allotments of rationed foods by applying to their local rationing board the OPA announced.

Zone Change On Windsor-Essex Inn Refused by Council

Borough Council Monday night refused to consider an informal request by L. M. Aloria for a zoning change which would permit him to convert his property, the Windsor-Essex Inn, at Windsor and Essex Aves., Narberth, into a multiple apartment dwelling.

The property owner was notified that "in the absence of any plans or specifications it does not appear practicable to make the changes suggested in a manner in keeping with the building code and the fire ordinance."

No permits for new construction in the Borough were issued during March. The building committee's report for the month showed two permits for roof repairs and 20 inspections. No oil burner permits were issued.

HIGH NOTES

by DAVID MALICKSON
Class of 1945—Lower Merion High School

A dinner in honor of the Lower Merion, '43, State Championship Basketball team will be given on May 1 at the Bala-Cynwyd Junior High School. The dinner, which will be prepared by the Junior High's Home Economics Department, is to be a private affair, attending other than the team, will be parents of the team members, managers and coaches. Following the dinner, the players will be honored at the Ardmore Junior High Ardmore, where presentations will be made and various people will speak. The public are cordially invited to attend these ceremonies which will begin at 8 p. m.

Under red, white, and blue streamers 120 couples danced to the "smooth" stylings of the Royal Crusaders in the Down's Gym last Saturday night. This Reverse Dance was patronized mostly by L. M. students, however, there was also a sprinkling of members of the armed services who are always most welcome.

Jean Simpson, Dot Biddle, and Karcher, chairman of the decoration, refreshment, and publicity committees, respectively, deserve a great deal of credit for making the evening most enjoyable. It was most amusing to see big, husky fellows wearing corsages composed of carrots, radishes, scallions and lettuce, which were presented to them by the "belles."

The Sophomore Hop, scheduled for May 1, will be held in the Down's Gym at 9 p. m. More details to follow.

Through the kindness of Mr. Adolf Muller, president of the Valley Forge Dogwood Association, Mr. Fred C. Peters, Mr. Raymond K. Mensch and Mr. Foster C. Hillekas, 45,000 dogwood trees were distributed to the students of the Lower Merion public and parochial schools last Thursday. The trees were presented to the students, upon request, in honor of a man or woman in the family serving in a branch of the armed services.

Narberth Plans House-to-House Canvass; Air Raids Help In Merion; Chairman Announces High School Mass Meeting

The Second War Loan drive got off to a flying start in Lower Merion and Narberth this week with many bond purchases being made at banks, post offices, booth and other issuing agents.

No figures on bond subscriptions are available because of the clerical problem involved in crediting bond purchases made by local residents in Philadelphia.

In some sections of the township and borough house-to-house canvassing was underway while in others, organization of the local soliciting group was proceeding rapidly.

Lower Merion and Narberth residents who work in Philadelphia and are solicited there for the War Loan drive were urged to specify that credit for the bonds they buy there be given to their home community.

Samuel K. McConnell, Jr., of Penn Wynne, chairman of the Lower Merion-Narberth district, announced that plans are progressing for a giant mass meeting to be held in the Ardmore Junior High School to last week of April on a date to be announced. Among the features planned are sort talks by soldiers who have seen service in North Africa and Guadalcanal.

Narberth, in charge of area chairman Carl B. Metzger, Jr., is preparing for an intensive house-to-house canvass. Cads have been prepared listing 1500 residents of the borough and the surrounding sections.

"Every resident may expect a call from one of the volunteer solicitors," Metzger said, "and will be asked to buy a bond. They are a wonderful investment with a type designed for every income."

Metzger reported considerable activity in bond buying at the National Bank of Narberth, where he is cashier.

Clarence E. Hall, Merion chairman, will be assisted by Arthur Littleton who will organize the Bala-Cynwyd and West Manayunk sections. Hall announced that air raid wardens of the Merion district are helping set up the soliciting organization for that community and that Episcopal Academy is assisting in the drive through its student body.

Among those aiding in the campaign in Merion are David S. Soliday, John J. McElroy, Frederick Platt, George R. Johnson, Mrs. Milton C. Jackson, Mrs. William A. Clark and Greville Haslam.

SHOW HONEST APPRECIATION

I have before me a letter which I shall always treasure. It is dated June 9, 1939, and is from the late Charles M. Schwab, the steel magnate. Here are two sentences:

"I read with interest your articles each day as they appear in the newspaper. I especially enjoyed the one in this morning's paper about Joseph P. Day."

Do you realize that a great deal of Schwab's success was built on giving people honest, sincere appreciation? Not flattery, mind you, but honest approval. When we entered the World War, the first thing that President Woodrow Wilson did was to appoint Schwab head of the Emergency Fleet Corporation. Ships! More ships! That was the call.

The gigantic Bethlehem steel plant was turned into a factory for making United States ships.

The Camden yards started rush work on a ship named the Tuckahoe. It was to be a test job of what the plant could accomplish. Schwab knew that the only way to get that ship built quickly, would be by firing the men with enthusiasm. He was stationed in Washington, but he went to the plant and talked with the men, telling them that the whole country was watching them and that they must put their best effort into the building of the Tuckahoe.

The men worked with a veritable oasson, like men inspired, and on the 17th day the Tuckahoe was finished. A triumph for America. It heartened the Allies.

Now Schwab made a characteristic gesture. He called the men together and thanked them—and gave each of them a silver medal and a facsimile of a letter of appreciation from President Wilson. Then he called for Thomas E. Mason, superintendent of hulls in the Camden yards. This superintendent had an old hand at ship building, he had built 225 ships before the Tuckahoe. But never had he had a moment like this, for Schwab put his hand on his shoulder and said, "Here is where the credit should go. Here is the man who built the Tuckahoe." And then Schwab put his hand in his own pocket and pulled out his gold watch and said, "I want you to accept this token of my appreciation. It has my name engraved on it, and when you see that name in the years to come, it may serve to remind you that I have appreciated what you have done."

Since honest appreciation is such a splendid thing, why don't we give more of it? It costs nothing, it lightens every heart.

TRANSPORTATION RUMORS FALSE

Rumors now circulating to the effect that the Office of Defense Transportation intends to apply priorities to civilian train and bus travel are completely and entirely false, says Joseph B. Eastman. However, passenger transportation facilities are under severe strain, and people who have no real need to travel should stay off trains and buses.

NEW CONTAINERS FOR YOUR CANNED FOODS

Because of changes brought about by the war, housewives will soon be buying their canned foods in two new types of containers.

The first of these will hardly be distinguished from the bright, silvery cans to which we are accustomed; the second will be recognized immediately from its external appearance, for its color may range from gun metal to various shades of brown or bronze.

Limitations have been placed by the War Production Board on products which may be canned, the sizes of cans and the materials from which cans may be made.

The can which resembles that to which we are accustomed has only a coating of tin electrolytically deposited on a sheet of steel, instead of passing the sheet of steel thru a bath of molten tin. This new process makes possible the application of less tin—in fact, less than one half as much. Then the inside of the can is coated with an enamel, which gives greater protection to the contents of the can.

The above is a new development in the art of canning and will probably remain for many products after the war is over.

The other type of can will have an enamel both inside and outside and will present a new appearance to the housewife. Instead of using tinplate, a specially prepared steel plate is used. Full protection against color changes and discoloration of the food is achieved thru the use of special baked enamels.

These cans must be properly handled so that no rust can start thru a break in the enamel. Store in a cool but dry place.

The above types of cans have met with the approval of the health and food authorities and the nutritive value is not impaired.

Successful Parenthood

THEY CAN BE FRIENDS

Few parents are prepared for the time when a formerly devoted brother begins to think his sister dumb, unattractive and anything but a family asset. The beginnings of this sex antagonism, as psychologists term it, appear usually around the age of nine. Until then brothers and sisters have played together with no more than the usual disagreements over who shall sit in the front seat of the car with father.

Then about the time a boy begins to have different tastes in games, sports and books from the ones he used to share with his sister, he comes to look upon his former activities with revulsion as being girlish and beneath him. In his chagrin over ever having enjoyed them he may turn against girls in general and his sisters in particular. Even though he may still secretly long to participate in some favorite occupation, such as listening to stories told by his sister or one of her friends, his fear of the ridicule of the other boys will force him to pass it up. His unacknowledged disappointment may add to his antagonism so that he tries to disrupt the story telling or reading of his former girl companions. That is when mothers are apt to think boys possessed of the devil, for on the surface this "dog in the manger" attitude seems mean and selfish, when it is really a wishful glance back into little boyhood.

Girls, too, at about this same age begin to find their interests verging away from those they have shared with their brothers. But there is apt to be more "live and let live" in a girl's attitude, for two reasons. One, girls are more often trained from the beginning to have respect for masculine activities. They see their mothers plan family affairs so as not to interfere with "your father's game of golf." And because father's diversions are more apt to be away from home than mother's, they have the glamour of the unknown for girls. If parents would keep in mind that these growing differences of interest are natural and desirable they would be less concerned over the temporary drifting apart of brothers and sisters. There is, for one thing, a physiological basis for the change—the build of the body, the shape of the joints and the length of ligaments and muscles are differentiating. Thus boys begin to develop physical skills girls can't keep up with—such as tackling, wrestling, kicking, while the girls do with greater ease things which require coordination of the fine muscles of the hand. Naturally, these skills overlap to a certain extent so don't discourage a girl's interest in machines or make a boy's life miserable if he shows equal interest with his sister in painting or playing the piano by labeling these "sissy." Many a genuine talent has been lost through too strict interpretation of what is boy's play or girl's play.

There is equal danger of making this superficial dislike which develops between brothers and sisters into a permanent antagonism. If, for instance, you insist that John take his sister along on his first thrilling excursion into the boy's own world. If not intensified this disdain will pass and a real friendship will take its place when a normal interest in the others returns at adolescence.

In the meantime you can insist on civility between the two for the sake of family harmony. But don't make the mistake many parents do of putting most of the blame for the disturbances on the boy. His methods of getting a rise out of his sister are, it is true, more obvious such as hitting, tripping, ridicule, etc. But girls can be equally as infuriating to their brothers.

TAXES From now on it will be open season for taking pot-shots at the members of the House of Representatives.

Having proved, through their antics over the new tax bill that they are incapable of performing their function of representing the people of this country, it becomes the duty of all democracy-loving people to roll out the heavy artillery and do something about it.

All this talk we hear from Congress about putting the war first, or putting the interest of the people first can now be put down as pure bunkum. The House, at least, has demonstrated that its interest is politics, only politics, and always politics. One just has to look at the party lineup on the voting to see that. Our one last hope is that these representatives may soon agree that it would be "good politics" to win the war.

Of course, there are a few exceptional congressmen who do have the interest of the nation and the people at heart. But, as members of the group which are fumbling the financing of the war in a fashion which would make any kindergarten treasurer blush, they must unfortunately share the blame.

PAY-AS-YOU-GO

Whether the reader of this column is a devotee of the Ruml plan, the Carlson plan, the Robertson plan, or the present tax plan, I think practically every one will agree to the following contentions:

1. When an overwhelming majority of the people has made it clear that it wants some kind of a pay-as-you-go tax plan, we should have a pay-as-you-go tax plan.

2. When the house ways and means committee, after spending months in sessions with tax experts finally comes out with a plan which looks like a recipe for a tossed salad and which even many of the committee members agree doesn't make sense, the house is showing a high degree of disinterest in the nation's welfare by asking that the same committee write another bill.

3. When the treasury department gives its blessing to the committee bill, even though it is obvious to anybody that it is impractical, non-understandable and contrary to the desires of the people, the department has aroused serious fears as to its competence for handling wartime financing.

4. When the people know that they are going to have to pay out a large portion of their income in taxes, it is imperative that the amount and methods of taxation be decided upon at once.

PUBLIC Taxation may not be the most serious problem facing congress these days, but it is one that all of us understand from the very bottom of our pocket-books. We are willing to pay what we must to support this war—but we have made it very clear how we want to make those payments.

A nation-wide poll by Dr. Gallup showed that 85 per cent of us like the Ruml method whereby payments would be deducted from our wages and would be on a pay-as-you-go basis. Every congressman must know from his own mail and from the editorials in the newspapers in his bailiwick that the great majority of his constituents favor this plan.

Therefore, when the house ignores public opinion in voting down even a modification of this plan and when the chairman of the ways and means committee, plucked over the defeat of his committee's half-baked proposals, says that he may drop the idea of pay-as-you-go altogether, it seems to me that house member Martin Dies should be called upon to concentrate his investigations of un-American activities right in the house itself.

When we are fighting a war to protect our right to have a government "of the people, by the people and for the people" it is of vital importance to win that fight at home as well as abroad. Certainly the action of the house, in throwing out all tax plans which the people favored, cannot be considered as "of," "by" and "for" anything but politics.

Maternity Care for Servicemen's Wives

Maternity care for wives of service men and for their infants will be available shortly for those who apply to State Health Departments, according to Katherine F. Leonard, chief of the children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor. Following appropriation by Congress of $1,200,000 to meet estimated needs of July, plans are being rushed to extend such aid to women in the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the District of Columbia. The care will be available to the wife or infant of any private, private first class, corporal, or sergeant, in the Army—and comparable grades in the Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard. It is not available to wives of men in higher ranks.

Fleer Will Again Appeal Assessment

Roland Fleer, president of Narberth Borough Council, formally notified the Council on Monday night that he intends to appeal the assessment on his property at 227 N. Narberth Ave.

In December, 1942, Fleer told Council in a letter read at the Monday meeting, he received notice that his property had been assessed at $12,500 or 69.44 per cent of the property value. He appealed the assessment, he stated, and in January was notified that it had been reduced to $10,000.

Stating that he considered this still too high, Fleer pointed out that he wished to make it a matter of record on the minutes of Council that he intended to appeal again.

Banyan Tree Lodge Dedicates Honor Roll

Banyan Tree Lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, held a public installation of officers on Monday, when John Parsons, district deputy, of Norristown, installed William McElhenry as Noble Grand, and Emmanuel Levingood as vice grand.

Following the installation ceremony the lodge invited the Bullock Sanderson Post, American Legion, Ardmore, to dedicate a roll of honor for eight lodge members now in the service. They are Staff Sergeant Wilfred R. Chidlow, Staff Sergeant Don E. Lewis, Sergeant Morris Cairns, Private Edward Ross, Private Samuel McNutt, Jr., Private Robert Montgomery, Jr., Private William Montgomery and Joseph Miller, Merchant Marine, first class.

The Rev. Frank E. Davis, of the Radnor M. E. Church, pronounced the benediction.

Just a Second!

Suppose that by answering your telephone more promptly, by speaking clearly, by keeping conversation brief, you saved just one second on each call you make. Would that amount to much?

Well, if everybody did that—saving one second on each call made daily in the United States, it would mean 110,000,000 seconds saved each day. That's 1,833,333 minutes or 30,555 hours. Enough time to handle more than half a million three-minute calls!

With our lines already crowded with calls and telephone materials "drafted" for war, we can make good use of every second you save on the telephone. Won't you "keep it brief" and help give America's most important calls a clear track and full speed ahead? The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

MORE CANNED FISH

The amount of canned fish available to civilians from the 1943 pack should be somewhat larger than from last year's pack, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Due to a similar carry-over of canned fish in 1943, however, the per capita supply for this year may be about three-fourth of the 1942 civilian consumption.

The Rev. J. C. Wicker, chaplain, U. S. Navy, officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of white net and Chantilly lace, the bodice of lace with heart shaped neckline and long tight sleeves and the full net skirt ending in a circular train. A cap of Chantilly lace held her illusion veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias and white orchids. A string of pearls, a gift from her father, was her only ornament.

Miss Eva Boatwright, twin sister of the bride, was her maid of honor. She wore an aqua dress combining lace and net and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow Spring flowers. The bridesmaids, Miss Mary Gilman, Mrs. Robert Fayr, Miss Dorothy Brown and Mrs. Richard Thompson, all of Richmond, were crowned in yellow lace and net and carried arm bouquets of mixed Spring flowers.

Mr. Charles Harnden was best man for his son. The groomsmen were Dr. C. G. R. N. Yard, Ensign D. R. Peterson and Ensign C. H. Isenhardt, all of Norfolk. Barry Miller, Baltimore, Md., and Robert Fayr, Richmond, served as ushers.

After a wedding trip through the South, Ensign and Mrs. Harnden will live in Norfolk, where he is stationed.

A reception for the bridal party and out-of-town guests was held at the home of the bride immediately after the ceremony.

School Children Get 'Victory' Dogwood To Plant as Memorial

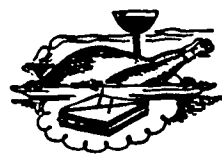

The distribution of over 45,000 "Victory" dogwood trees to school children of Montgomery County took place on Arbor Day, April 9, for planting as living memorials to the men and women of the County who are serving in the armed forces.

The trees are the gift of Adolf Muller, president of the Valley Forge Dogwood Association, a member of the Valley Forge Park Commission and the Montgomery County Park Board.

Seedlings were supplied to all public and parochial school children of the County for planting at their homes or any suitable place in the County. Averaging about one and one-half feet in height, they will begin to bloom in three or four years. Dogwoods have been known to live for more than 200 years.

THE 2nd WAR LOAN DRIVE IS ON!

How to invest in "fighting dollars!"

"Lend more money to help carry on the fight!" That's what our Government is asking you and all the rest of us . . .

asking us to lend it 13 billion fighting dollars in the next few weeks! 13 billion extra dollars—over and above all regular War Bond buying!

We can do it . . . we must do it . . . we owe it to our boys who are fighting overseas. For their sake . . .

We've got to build more ships! We broke all records last year when we built 8 million tons of shipping. This year, we're building 18 million tons . . . but still it is not enough!

We've got to do more fighting! More and more of our soldiers and sailors are going into actual combat . . . requiring more equipment, and more supplies. We cannot let them down!

We've got to buy more War Bonds! To help pay for the things our fighting men need . . . we've got to buy War Bonds as we never bought them before!

In the next few weeks you may be visited by one of the thousands of men and women who are giving their time and effort to the 2nd War Loan Drive. Welcome these patriotic workers if they call . . . buy from them all the War Bonds you can!

Better still, don't wait for them. Go to your nearest bank, post office, or War Bond booth, and invest more fighting dollars now! It's the least you can do to help those who are fighting and dying overseas!

Among the 7 different kinds of U. S. Government securities is one that exactly fits your own particular purse and requirements. These securities are the finest investment in the world . . . bar none! For your Country's sake . . . for your own sake . . . invest all you can!
